THE Countryside Specialists since 1994

CJS® - The Original, the Biggest & the Best in the field

Advertisers Information Pack

Established in July 1994 as a jobs bulletin newsletter Countryside Jobs Service or CJS is the longest running such service for the countryside and conservation sectors. We publish information which we think will be of interest to people working in the countryside management and conservation profession.

CJS is an ethical business working in harmony with environmental professionals to conserve the British countryside and natural world. Motivated by conservation success not profits.

There are two publications produced under the CJS banner that carry recruitment advertising, each with a different target audience. Our website is extensive covering all aspects of working in the countryside sector including recruitment advertising.

Our readership is comprised of countryside, conservation and environmental professionals at all levels including those just starting in the profession.

CJS also advertises volunteer opportunities, apprenticeships and training placements.

Our readers are across the UK. The website is open access and does sometimes attract international readers. We advertise vacancies based anywhere in the UK.

In addition to recruitment advertising the website also has an extensive Training Directory. It is possible to advertise free of charge, paid options are available for greater prominence, please ask for more details. You may also advertise training and events in CJS Weekly and CJS Professional. Classified advertising is carried in CJS Professional, free options are available.

When there are lots of online job boards and newsletters why should we use CJS?

We're specialists in this sector.

We've been providing job information since 1994. Not only that but we're endorsed by the rangers associations of England, Wales, Northern Ireland and Scotland - Countryside Management Association and Scottish Countryside Rangers Association.

CJS is highly targeted.

Other publications and sites may boast of very large circulations &/or page views but with CJS our audience is highly targeted. You can be guaranteed that every applicant through CJS will have the right qualifications and skills.

One advertiser said: "After recent recruitments I was thinking of dropping CJS as other sites are quoted by many more applicants, but looking at the average scores of candidates those from CJS did score better".

CJS is highly visible.

Ranked number one for countryside jobs with Google and Bing and always in the top five for ecologist, arboriculturalist, environmental education vacancies and for wildlife work.

We're fast.

Adverts go online as soon as they're agreed, usually within an hour. Newsletter turn around is two days from deadline to publication for CJS Professional or one day for CJS Weekly.

CJS is social.

We send DAILY emails to 9,000 interested readers (opt in only, no automatic registration). As soon as your advert is live details are circulated by Twitter, Facebook and LinkedIn.

Followers and connections: Twitter: 7,700; Facebook: 5,100; LinkedIn 5,100 connections, a network of over 2 million and growing. (correct December 2020).

Reach 100,000 interested countryside professionals for only £60!

Let CJS take the strain out of recruiting.

Use our additional recruitment services and let the CJS Team handle all your applications through our PO Box service and use of our standard application form. Find out more about these services at the end of this information pack.

Options for recruitment advertising - which is best for you.

CJS Weekly and Online - regular package

CJS Weekly is the original Countryside Jobs Service, a weekly newsletter sent to subscribers with a keen interest in the sector, actively looking for work and those just keeping in touch with current developments. It is the longest running such service and has an excellent reputation and proven results. Adverts are included online and are usually posted within a few hours of receiving your confirmation but can be embargoed to a specific date. The main CJS Weekly newsletter is published every Friday (excluding Christmas, New Year and Good Friday).

CJS Weekly - free advertising

You can advertise free of charge in CJS Weekly. A free linage advert consists of your information heavily edited under six headings to fit the in-house style. There is no online coverage for free linage. Please note free linage adverts have the lowest response rate of all the options available.

CJS Professional - full coverage package

CJS Professional is our monthly newsletter sent free of charge to over 2,500 offices across the sector, including offices and sites of relevant authorities, agencies and conservation charities; also to opt-in members of Countryside Management Association and Scottish Countryside Rangers Association. Online in full with a short notice published on our LinkedIn page additionally around 500 individuals have opted-in to receive a reminder email letting them know when the edition is published. Making the total readership estimated at over 100,000. Being a monthly edition deadlines can be restrictive, published on the second Thursday of each month.

Adverts are included in CJS Weekly and online.

Voluntary and apprenticeship type roles

Advertising is available in all of the above and there is a 50% discount on any paid advertising. For these roles only: the free advertising option in CJS Weekly includes online coverage in the dedicated volunteers section or on the apprenticeship page plus limited social media coverage.

CJS Weekly - free advertising. More information: Why do we offer free advertising?

The short answer is because we always have.

CJS started as an aggregation service, pulling together adverts from various publications and putting them together into one handy newsletter package, one of the first search engines if you like, in 1994 the internet was not as big as it is today and google was four years away. The founders of CJS believed in putting back as much as they could and didn't want to charge the charities and organisations looking after our valuable countryside and wildlife; allowing those organisations to use their hard earned funds on something more vital than advertising. They also wanted to provide as much information as they could to help people working across the sector and to offer advice (and hope) to those just starting out in their careers. These are still our fundamental tenets and many people still can't believe that we offer so much free of charge and not only that but that we suggest cheaper options instead of piling on more 'added extras'.

Please see our statement about social enterprise on the About Us pages of our website.
